Once upon a time, a little triceratops wanted to see what was on the other side of the hill.

She started walking through the mud. Squish, squish, squelch, squelch went her feet.

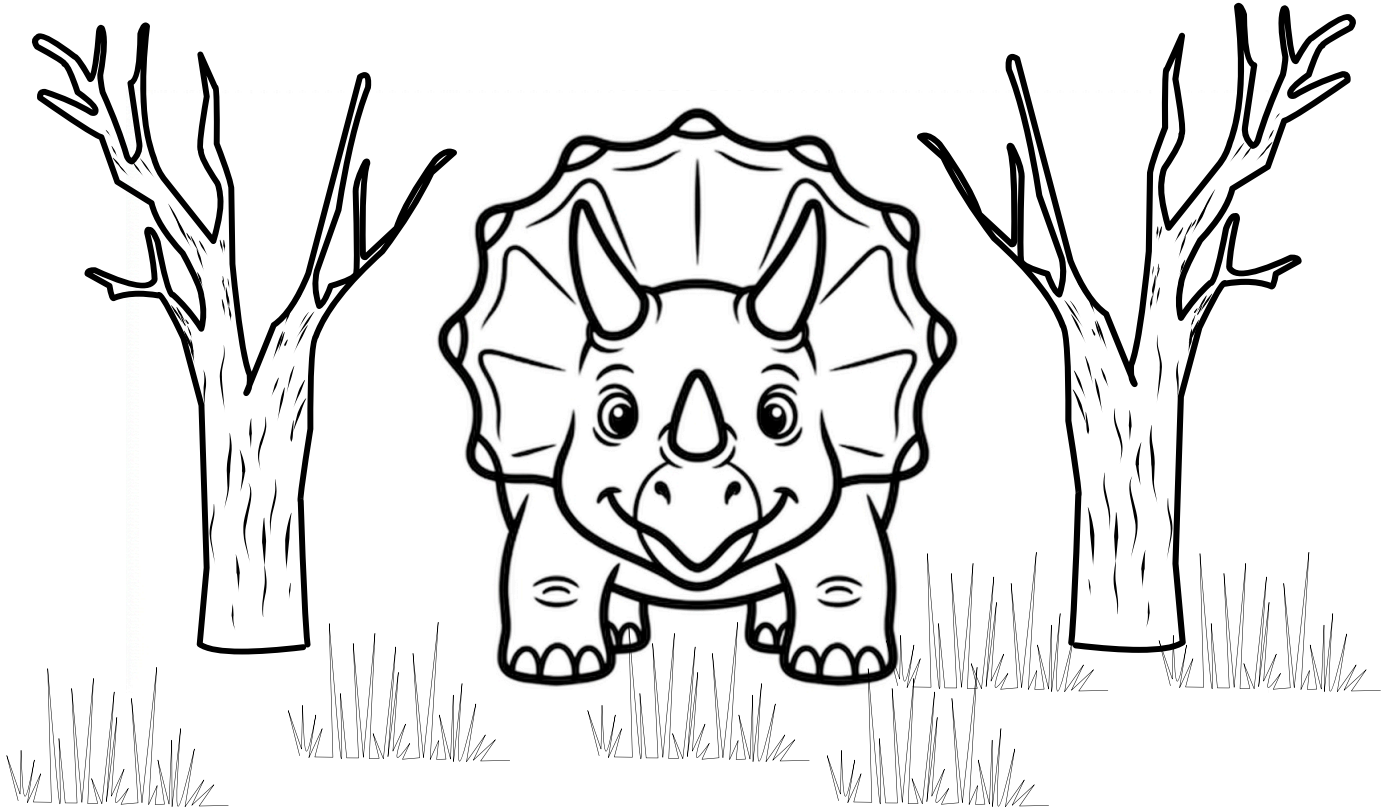

The mud made her feet heavy. She stomped left, right, then left and right again. The mud went flying!

She walked through the forest.

5

She splashed through a puddle.

6

Then the triceratops came to the hill. Halfway 7 up, she found a tunnel that cut through the hill. Hurray!

Oh, no! A giant boulder was blocking her path. 8

She ran as fast as she could and charged into 9
the boudler, smashing it into small pieces.

She made it to the other side of the hill! And 10 guess what she found? A dino party!
